Goodson, Schoolland take over top jobs

When a school undergoes a change in administration, it usually one administrator at a time, but Maryvale always has to be different and changed both top jobs the same year. Louis Burnett and Elzie Myers were replaced by David Goodson as Principal and John Schoolland as Associate Principal.

Mr. Goodson showed his concern for the community as he led a drive to organize an advisory council made up of school patrons. He came from South Mountain where he had served as principal.

Mr. Schoolland, who moved from West quickly showed his scheduling competence and an interest in students.

The smooth transition from the old to the new attested to the abilities of the two men.

Mr. Goodson (upper left) and Mr. Schoolland (upper right) confer on problems of Maryvale in the principal's office (top center). Mr. Goodson entered right into Maryvale life, especially as a spectator (far right) and ROTC inspector (right)

Board dedicates new Trevor G. Browne

Entrusted with the duty of setting policy for the 11 high schools in the Phoenix Union System, the Board of Education this year dedicated Trevor G. Brown High School, one of the most innovative buildings in the West, which relieved the overcrowded conditions at Maryvale and allowed this school to return to single sessions.

Retired board member Trevor G. Browne was at the dedication of the school named for him (above left) as was Superintendent Gerald S. DeGrow (above center). Mrs. Warner answers a question at a student news conference (above right). Members of the board are 1, Mrs. Carolyn Warner, president, 2. Mr. Stephen Jenkins, 3. Rev. William Bostrom, 4. Mr. Don Jackson, clerk, and 5. Mr. John Hansen

For the first time in history, the election for membership on the Board was held in conjunction with the general election. The Reverend William Bostrom won and returned to the Board after a three-year absence.

The Board faced a crisis with teacher salaries and settled it amicably.

Mrs. Dorothy Druckmiller joined the Maryvale administrative staff this year as a consultant on the four quarter system in case Maryvale was chosen as the pilot school for the plan.

When South Mountain was named to try out the year-round idea, Mrs. Druckmiller drew other duties.

Consuelo, Ely Mara exchange capitals

Moving from Brazil to Maryvale High School is a long way but there was one thing Consuelo Fernandino's and Ely Mara Avila's home towns have in common with Phoenix, they are all state capitals.

The two lovely girls were the foreign exchange students at Maryvale this year.

Consuelo comes from Belo Horisonte, State capital of Ninas Gerais, Brazil. She stayed with the Lage family whose daughters, Lynnell and Lorann were "sisters."

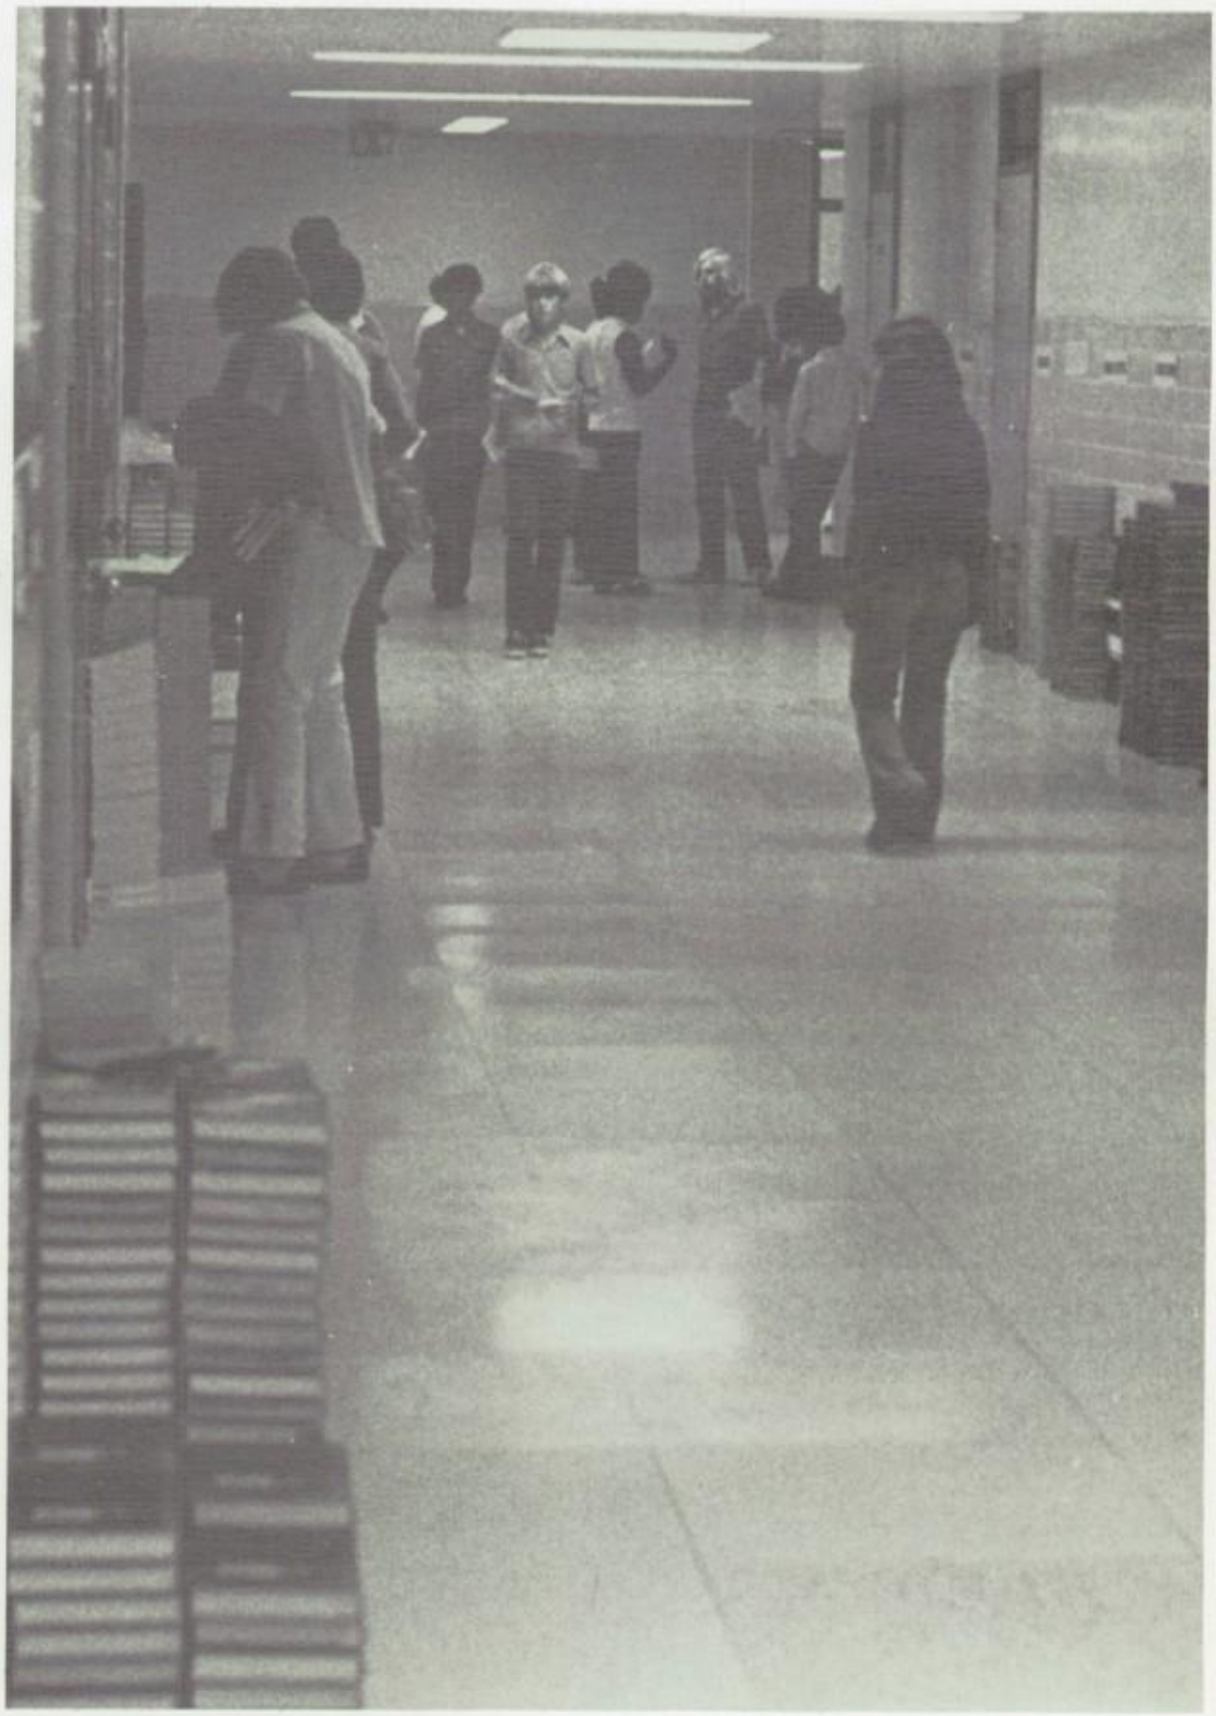
Book buying takes patience, time, cash

When the doors of school opened for book buying, Maryvale students came by the score to stand in long lines waiting for their names to be called, then zipped through the halls searching for that stack of science fiction, American History, or math books that they needed, paid for them and were assigned lockers to find.

On the way through the halls, they had a chance to purchase a yearbook or buy needed school supplies. Summer was definitely over.



Grant brings lecture on rock

With the return to single sessions came a return of more normal routine which included fairly regular assemblies. Whether they presented the "History of Rock" or a popular rock group or were of the more traditional type such as the annual Christmas assembly given by the music department, they were generally well-presented and well-received.

Assemblies brought back a unity to the school in providing a welcome break in school routine as well as generally being entertaining and informative.

Pep rallies return; bring weirdo skits

Pep assemblies for football games created quite an impression on Maryvale students. Publications got into the act during Homecoming week by switching sexes and dressing up to be nominees having the pep assembly audience vote the winner by the clap of hands during the first outdoor assembly.

Poms and cheers did a great job of promoting school spirit by the different stunts they did pertaining to this year's J.V. and varsity teams.

Credit must also be given to the pep band for helping out with the music to the school fight song and other favorites such as the Budweiser Song.

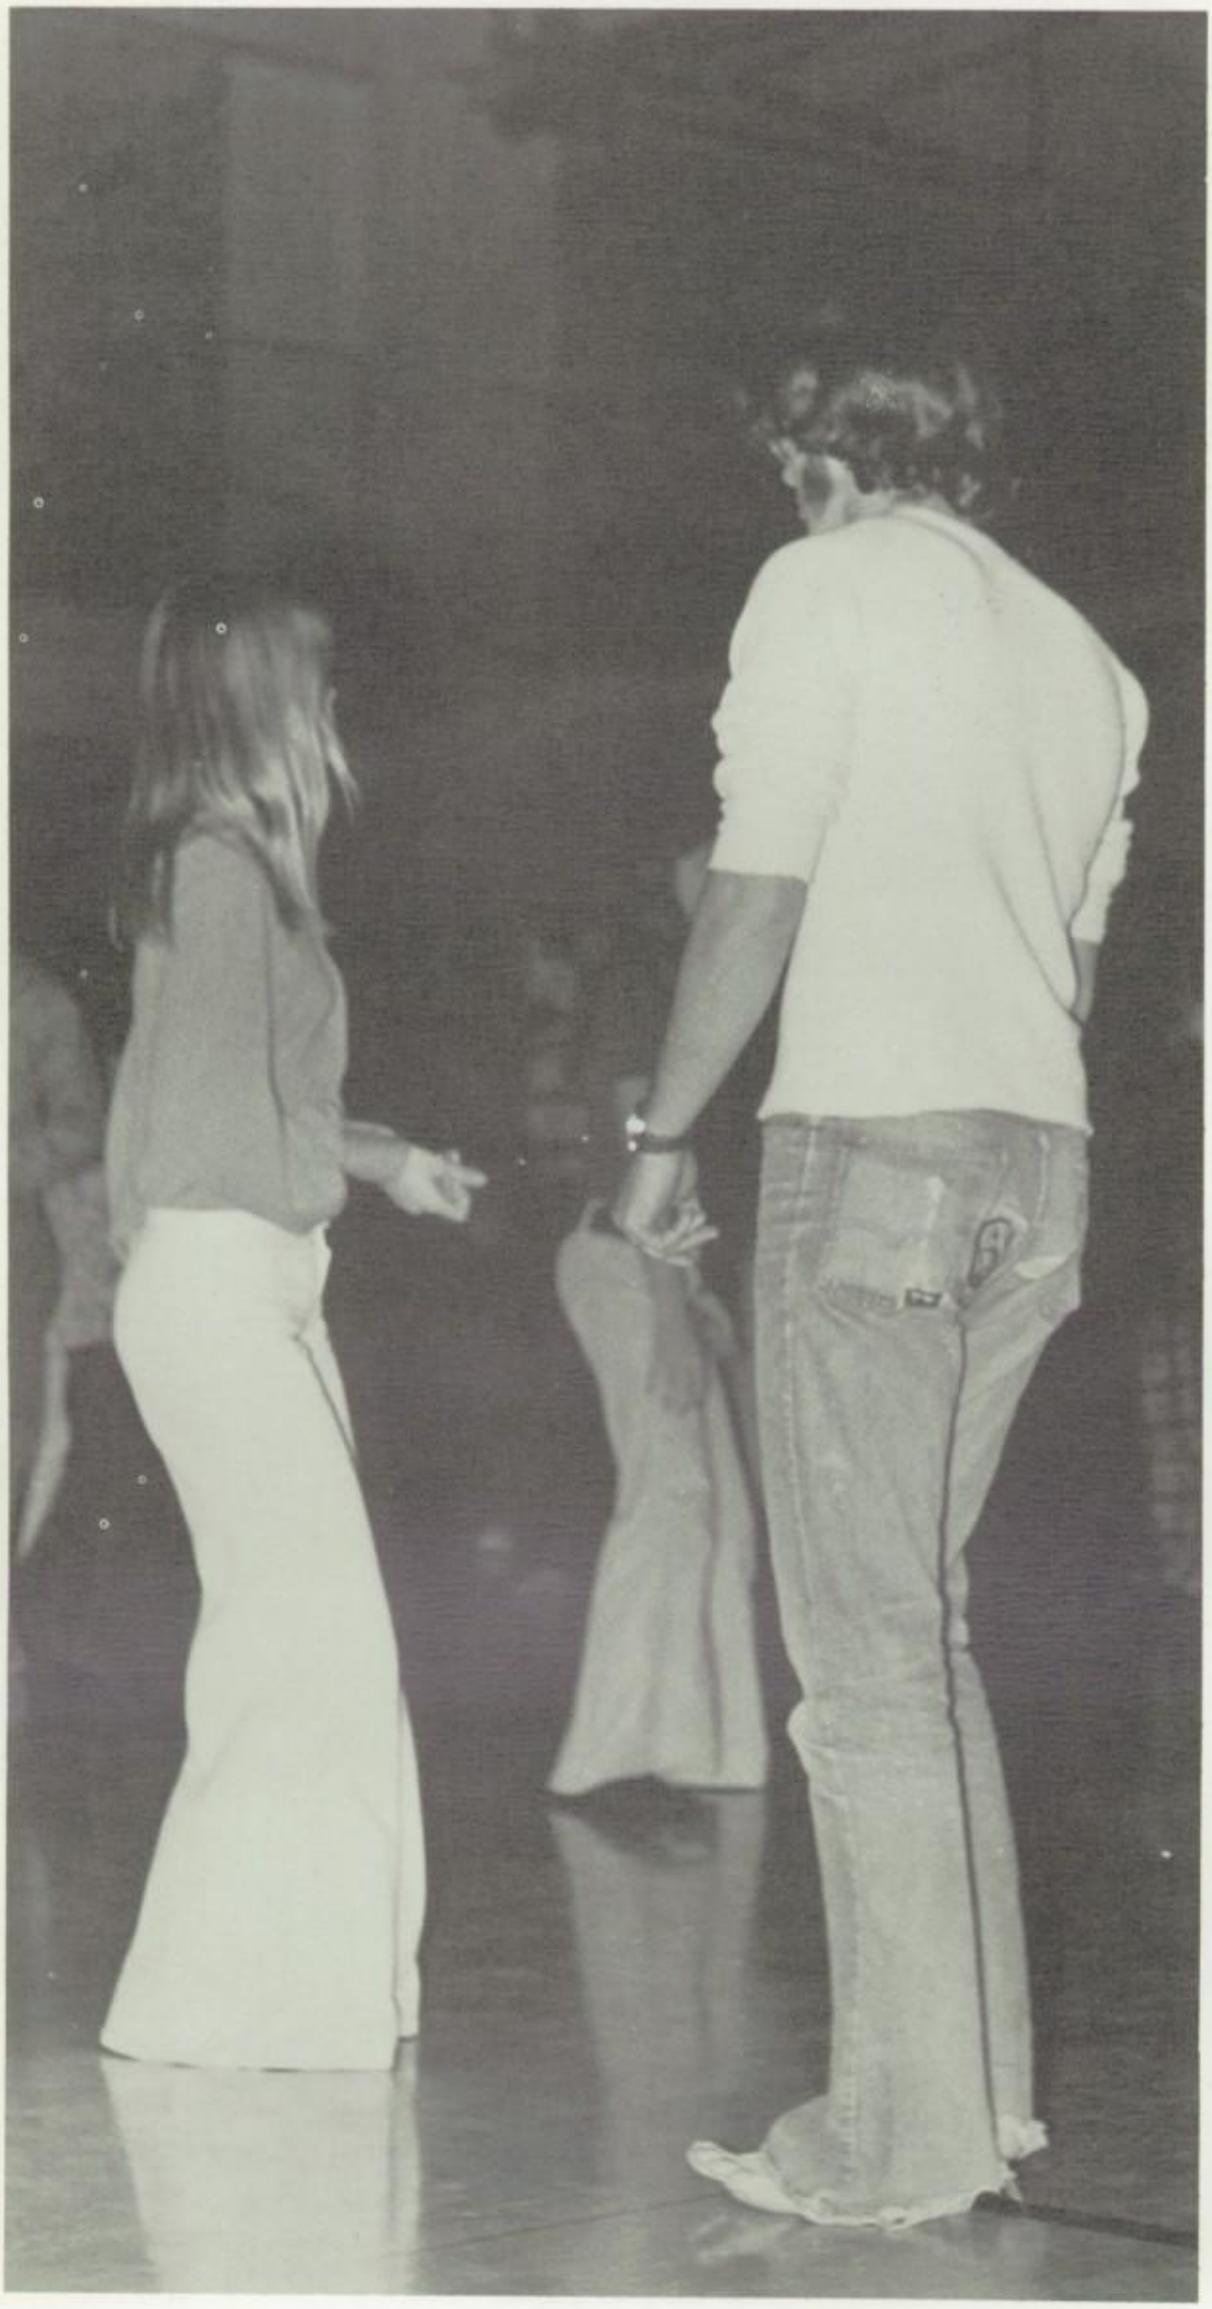
Dances furnish relaxation time

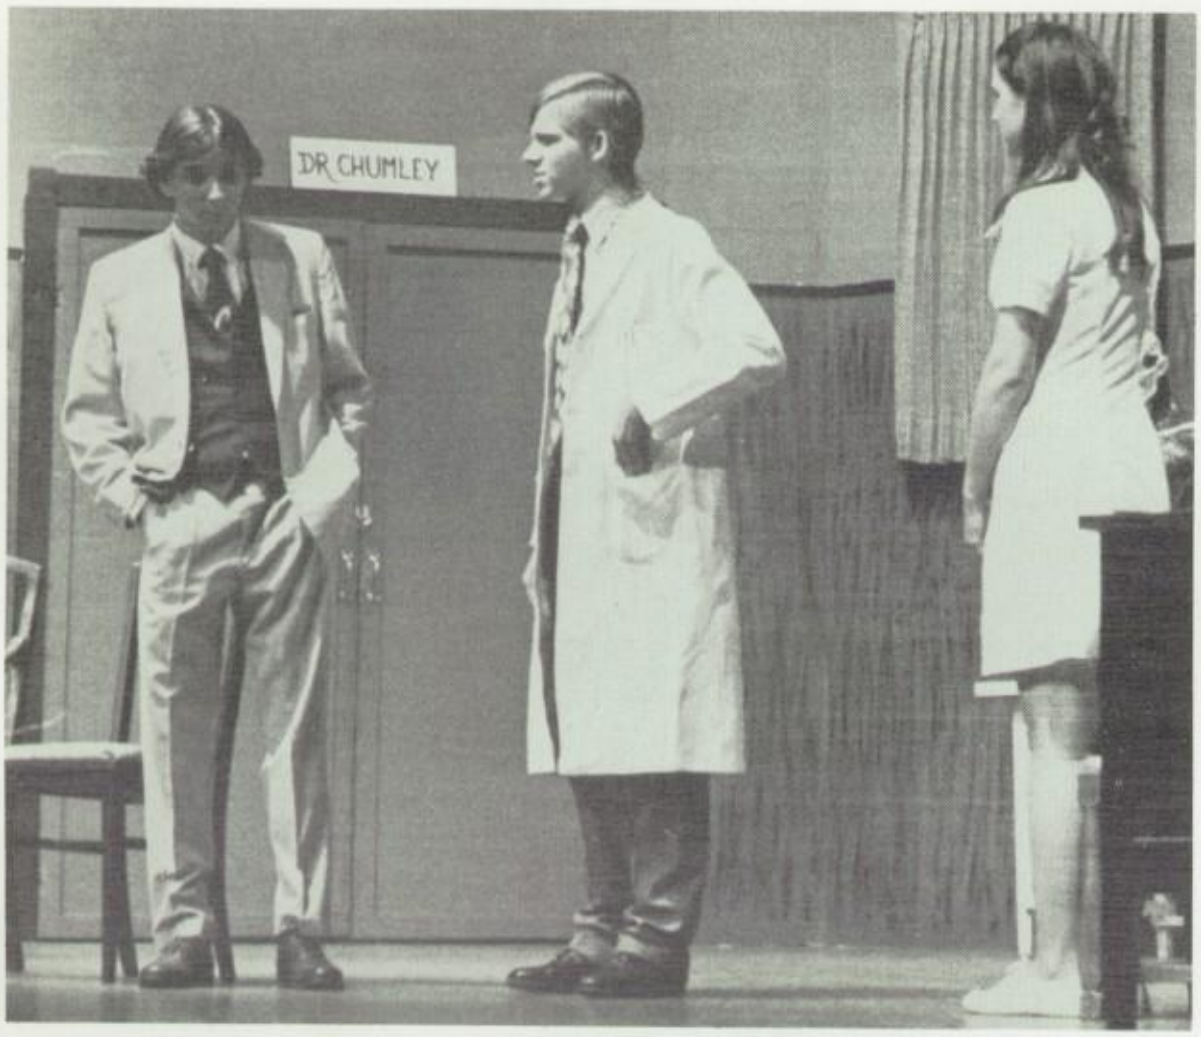


Whether it was a super formal or an after-the-game sock hop, the dance was the thing as Maryvale students attended them in force.

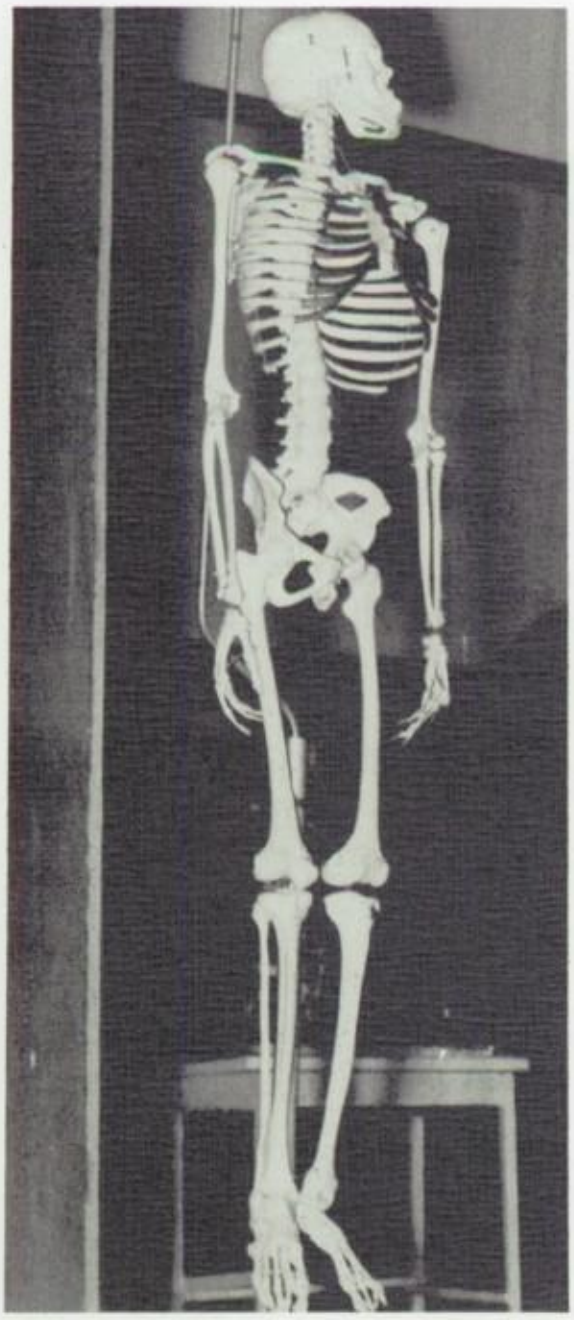
Usually the music was loud and hard as the freaky-named bands swept couples on to the floor to do their thing.

The newly refinished gym floor caused some minor complaints as dancers who are usually required to wear shoes were forced to remove them before being allowed on the floor.

Most dances were enthusiastically attended but the junior class sock hop floundered because of a shod Browne dance scheduled the same night. The homecoming dance, the Christmas formal and the prom which was held at the new Civic Plaza were all beautifully decorated affairs with all the trappings of formal dances.



DR CHUMLEY



'Harvey', 'La Mancha' Thespian productions

"Dowd, Elwood P." was the Man that ever lived, but many might frown upon his two constant companions, booze and the imaginary Pukka, "Harvey".

Chuck Keever, senior, played the kindly and eccentric Elwood P. Dowd to a tee in the MHS Drama Dept. production of "Harvey". Dawn DeLisle was very convincing as the flustered and worried Veta. Veta is very worried that Myrtle Mae, Susan Allison, will never marry because of Elwood's embarrassing insistence that his best friend is a 6-foot rabbit, (invisible, no less). Veta tries to commit Elwood to an institution, but when trying to explain Elwood's problem, she commited herself.

But love conquers all when Wilson, an orderly played by Curtis miner, falls for Myrtle Mae.

Anyone that saw "Harvey" was delighted. For those attending the play, but never saw him, were equally delighted by a fine performance.

The second production was the "Man of LaMancha", a very interesting and entertaining musical which was shown April 6 and 7.

Mrs. Wilson, advisor, and the MHS thespians should be equally proud of two very fine performances this year.

Pay conflict causes slowdown, walkout

About 400 students joined teachers in a demonstration for higher teacher salaries during fourth period February 8.

Although the teachers never did formally strike they conducted a "slowdown" that involved everything from boycotting the faculty cafeteria to "sick-ins" when many of them called in sick.

The dispute was settled February 15 when the school board approved a salary boost that was acceptable to the local Classroom Teachers Association.

Although the students were urged to stay in class by teachers, student body leaders and the administration, classes were disrupted and minor mischief occurred all over campus during the fourth period of the day.

One sneaky picket was never photographed. First he carried an "Enter Only" sign with Mr. Geiler and Mr. Williamson (left top) then hid behind a sign in the picture with Mr. Saban (far left). The other two photos show students out of fourth class.

Sharpshooters win medals at Big Bore

For the third time in as many years, Maryvale's ROTC has won the Big Bore Shoot at Black Canyon rifle range. This year, they also won third, sixth and ninth.

In addition the ROTC wears the coveted blue star patch on their uniforms, which signifies that their overall grades, drilling and scholastic standing. Maryvale has earned this patch ever since there has been ROTC on campus.

In the annual Phoenix drill meet, the drill team has won three out of four trophies.

CHIEF OF SECURITY
MARYVALE

Guard force is now part of school life

"Call security" became a new phrase used throughout the district as the Phoenix Union system switched from hiring private guard firms and employed a staff of its own.

Under the overall administration of John McFarlin, the Maryvale group led by chief Edward Jones, established a better rapport with students than ever before possible.

In another related field, Officer Tom Engstrom came to Maryvale as a force to change the image of the Phoenix policeman in the Police Assisting Youth program. Engstrom was available to students who wanted to rap about the police. He also arranged lectures for classes with the various law enforcement agencies in the valley.

Being a security chief keeps Edward Jones hopping and on the telephone a lot. The door to Officer Engstrom office was always open to students (lower right). Fayerene Gibson (upper right) was everyones Favorite security guard.

Maryvale was completely shot down in their quest for the championship by Central and probably had the lowest moral of any Maryvale team.

Coach Young contemplated forfeiting the last game. It wouldn't have made any difference either way, however, because Maryvale lost to the Rebels by the score of 28–6.

Maryvale did have possibilities before the season but along the line something happened to send the Panthers season downhill.

The biggest possibility was the lack of depth in the team. There was a lack of utility players to back up every man on the field. Most of third and fourth string or utility players backed up more than one player and deserve just as much credit for sticking it out as the starters, such as George Greathouse, Bob Morgan and Don Ireland.

Maryvale suffered its first losing season, but is recovering with the heads held high and proud.

If there is any excuse needed for this years varsity football record due to the split between Maryvale and Trevor Browne in enrollment.

The Panthers season of one win, seven losses and one tie started off as any other season would with the Panthers splitting their first two games. They lost the opening game 26–19 to the fast moving Westwood Warriors and beat Camelback by two touchdowns 14–0 in the second game of the season.

Maryvale then lost four in a row, the Panthers went down to Carl Hayden 14–7; to Alhambra 16–8; to East in the first league game 28–21 and probably in the most disappointing game of the season the Panthers were beaten by the Trevor Browne Bruins 20–0 in the first meeting ever.

The Panthers, hampered permanently by the loss of quarterback Ralph Baca, who suffered a broken ankle against Carl Hayden, went into league to play with little hope.

Team loses last to Longhorns

Maryvale started its quest for a second straight state tournament on a shaky note by edging the Casa-Grande Cougars, 44–43. Hank Herrington scored 15 points in the first half, and finished the game with 16.

The Panthers had to go into overtime to beat the Prescott Badgers, 59–55. Maryvale was trailing at half, but came back to take the lead. Time ran out with the score tied 51–51. The Panthers scored 9 points to Prescott's 4 in the overtime.

Maryvale took second in the state tournament after losing to East in the championship game, 65–71. The Panthers led 36–30 at the half, but the Longhorns came on strong in the second half to win. High scorer was George Greathouse, with 19 points.

Coach Wayne Kindall led the Panthers to another winning season. He has been varsity coach since 1968 and extended his record for the five years to 90–36.

Defending champs go 18-5 in season

Defending the title of State Champions, Maryvale's varsity Basketball grabbed first place in the holiday tournament, claimed the Phoenix division league B crown again, and ended the regular season with a 18–5 record.

The Panthers opened their season by smashing Scottsdale, 69–47. First to score was Randy Anglin who also was high scorer with 14 points.

The first home game was a victorious one. George Greathouse with 12 points and Tom Edens with 12 rebounds led the Panthers over the Washington Rams, 52–43.

The next victims to fall were West and Alhambra. The T-Birds, 67–42, and the Lions, 68–56.

Then Maryvale lost to Carl Hayden, 48–50.

The holiday tournament came up next for the Panthers to grab. First to fall were Camelback, 71–50, and Browne, 65–36. Then surprised East, No. 1 at the time, by beating the Longhorns, 62–53. Alhambra was the final foe and the Panthers nipped the Lions, 54–50, to win Maryvale's first holiday tournament.

Back after vacation, Maryvale lost to Camelback, 51–57, but came back to rip the Coyotes, 49–30.

With the score the same at the pervious meeting (except the loser the winner), Maryvale put away the Falcons, 50–48.

Illness hits team; causes two losses

Sickness hit, making the Panthers easy prey for the Lions and the Rebels, The losses, consecutively, were 54–58 and 43–54.

The next game was one of Maryvale's easiest victories. The Bruins lost, 77–36.

For the second time, Maryvale put East in their place. The Panthers scored 71 points to East's 57. Randy Anglin had 13 points, Tony Ellison 14, and Hank Herrington 13.

Maryvale's final loss in the regular season was to the Mustangs, 54–58.

Randy Anglin and Hank Herrington each pumped in 18 points to lead the Panthers past Central, 60–50.

Coach Kindall played everyone and everyone scored against South. Maryvale bombed the Rebels, 66–47.

Again, the Longhorns lost to the mighty Panthers, 60–53.

Grapplers 7-4 in dual season

Both the varsity and junior varsity teams had new coaches. Mike Patterson, from Carl Hayden, coached the varsity, and the J.V.'s coach, Dave Carpenter.

Maryvale's varsity wrestlers ended the regular dual season with a 7–4 record. The Panthers also took third in the Phoenix Division and qualified six men to State.

Even though inexperience was the Panthers' weakness, it was also the strength that pushed the team to victory.

Panther baseballers look tough for '73

Baseball is the forgotten sport in a yearbook. Just about the time the team gets together after a basketball season, the book gets mailed.

The staff was only able to cover one baseball game: the opener against Phoenix Union. That game the team won impressively, 8–1. The rest can only be surmised, but on the basis of tnat game and on past performances the baseball Panthers will again be tough. They may not win the state championship, but it is not beyond the realm of possibility.

Maryvale's student government, while being besieged with financial problems, attempted to make Maryvale's eleventh year its best.

An especially hard year was in store, however, as the student government had to face the prospect of a new administration and new school policies along with it.

Having the early part of the year limited to small projects while still adjusting, it soon progressed to more controversial issues and answers.

Led by student body president John Frogge, the student government advanced through a year of service operations for the students of Maryvale rather than the traditional school gifts.

Warren Kissinger advised the government to a strong end of the year contrasting with the late slumps of other years.

Sponsoring the first professional rock concert was just one of the innovations attempted to promote better student-school relationships.

Cheers spark spirit at games

Not all spirit was lost at football games this year; the Varsity Cheers were full of spirit as they encouraged the team on to victory.

Not only at football and basketball games, but also at pep assemblies, the cheers got students involved in showing school spirit.

Early in the year the Varsity Cheers attacked the Panther Tracks for an incident involving their captain.

Pom line kicks high to entertain crowds

Providing varied and entertaining half-time routines during the football and basketball season was the prime responsibility of the MHS Pom Pon Line. During all home games, the poms also supported the cheerleaders in leading the crowds in cheers.

The annual Pom and Cheer dance provides the time and place for the announcing of next years Poms and Cheers. Girls are chosen on the basis of their skills and enthusiasm.

Jayvee cheers help with varsity chores

What the varsity cheerleaders meant to the varsity teams went double for the JV cheerleaders and junior varsity groups always had plenty of help where the crowds were too sparse at the JV games.

With few cheerers to lead, these girls attended and sparked life into the teams.

The JV cheerleaders did many of the chores necessary to keep school spirit high such as making signs and putting them up on campus.

Slowdowns slow book production

Ordinary tornadoes, earthquakes and other natural disasters year book staffs have handled routinely for years but this is the first time a staff has had to operate during slowdowns, sick-ins and walkouts.

The yearbook staff was up a tree much of the year as problems beset them in multiples of 12. Here Advisor Earl Stinson tries to get them down. Ground row: Linda Herrick, Christy Ballandby. Limb 1: Donna Straass, Brenda Lee, Valerie Barnes. Limb 3: B. J. Engstrom. Photographer Matt Purdome (above) Editors Lee and Straass (above right)

Into this muddle of mischief two heroines came, positively determined to save Panthorian from a fate worse than late delivery. They were Brave Brenda and Dauntless Donna, yearbook editors.

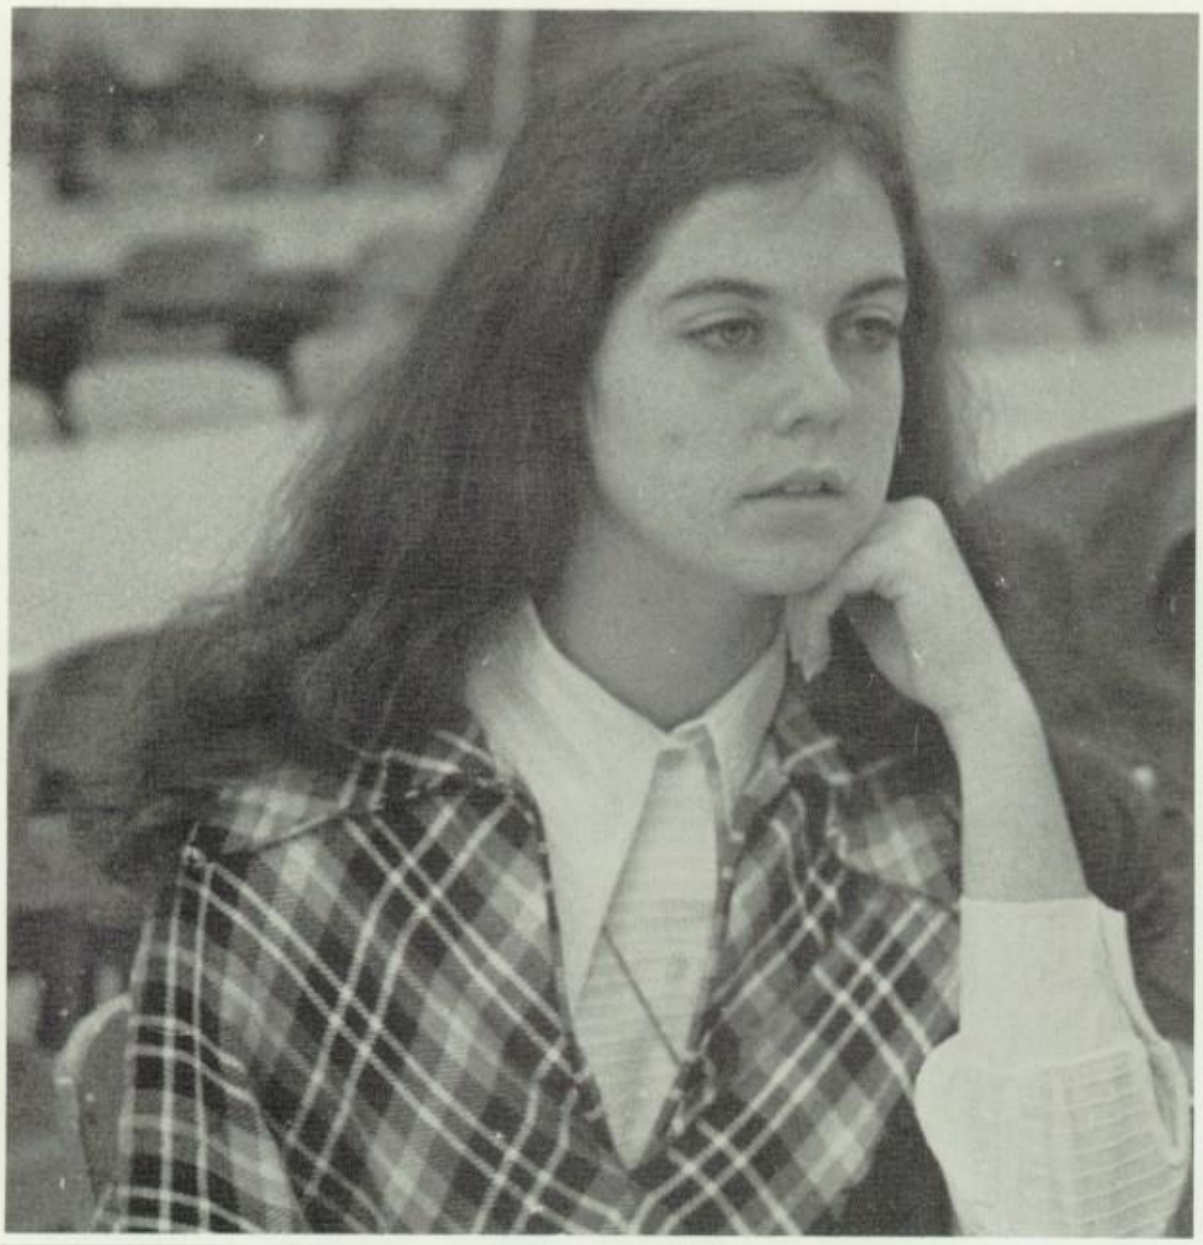
To help them, this plucky pair recruited Bold B. J., the freshman firecracker who was to work hardest of all the little saviors. Also on the team, Little Linda, a sports specialist speeding spirited sports space to the printer. Also on the team were Valiant Valerie and Cool Christie who didn't help much but they were there.

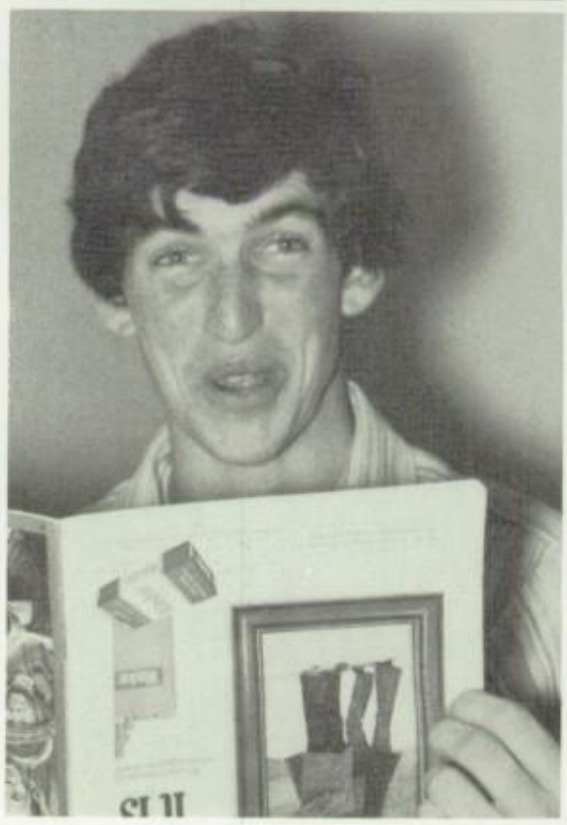
Without Masterful Matt, a phine photographer, their efforts would have been in vain. His pictures filled space faster than words and some of them looked as good.

The final ingredient was Simon (Legree) Stinson, who slowed down years before it became popular. He drove the staff to the limits of his patience which grew thin when he decided on a trip to La Paz right before spring recess.

With this crew anything was impossible but everything came out right as the yearbook was rescued and Stinson made his trip.

Moral: Virtue is its own reward but a yearbook helps.





Two editors needed for Panther Tracks

Panther Tracks reached more students and homes this year than ever before as the school newspaper was given away for the first time in its history.

The Tracks was produced under the leadership of two editors. First, Nancy Froelich edited the paper, until after semester break when she discovered that she had enough credits to graduate.

Under Nancy's editorship, the Tracks took on some of the thornier problems of the school which led to a strong Letters to the Editor Column.

After Nancy's sudden departure, the staff operated with Tim McLaughlin as editor with little shift in emphasis.

One of the biggest stories about Panther Tracks concerned an issue that never came out. The staff prepared an "extra" congratulating the basketball team for winning state for the second year in a row. It was to have been sold at the Colisseum after the championship game. Unfortunately the team lost and so was the special issue of Panther Tracks.

Nancy Froehlich, Tim McLaughlin, Tim Hooey, Valerie Barnes, Tom Kelly, Heidi Olsen, Tina Williams, Peggy Murphy, Ron Parsons, Tom Muncy, and David Heath.

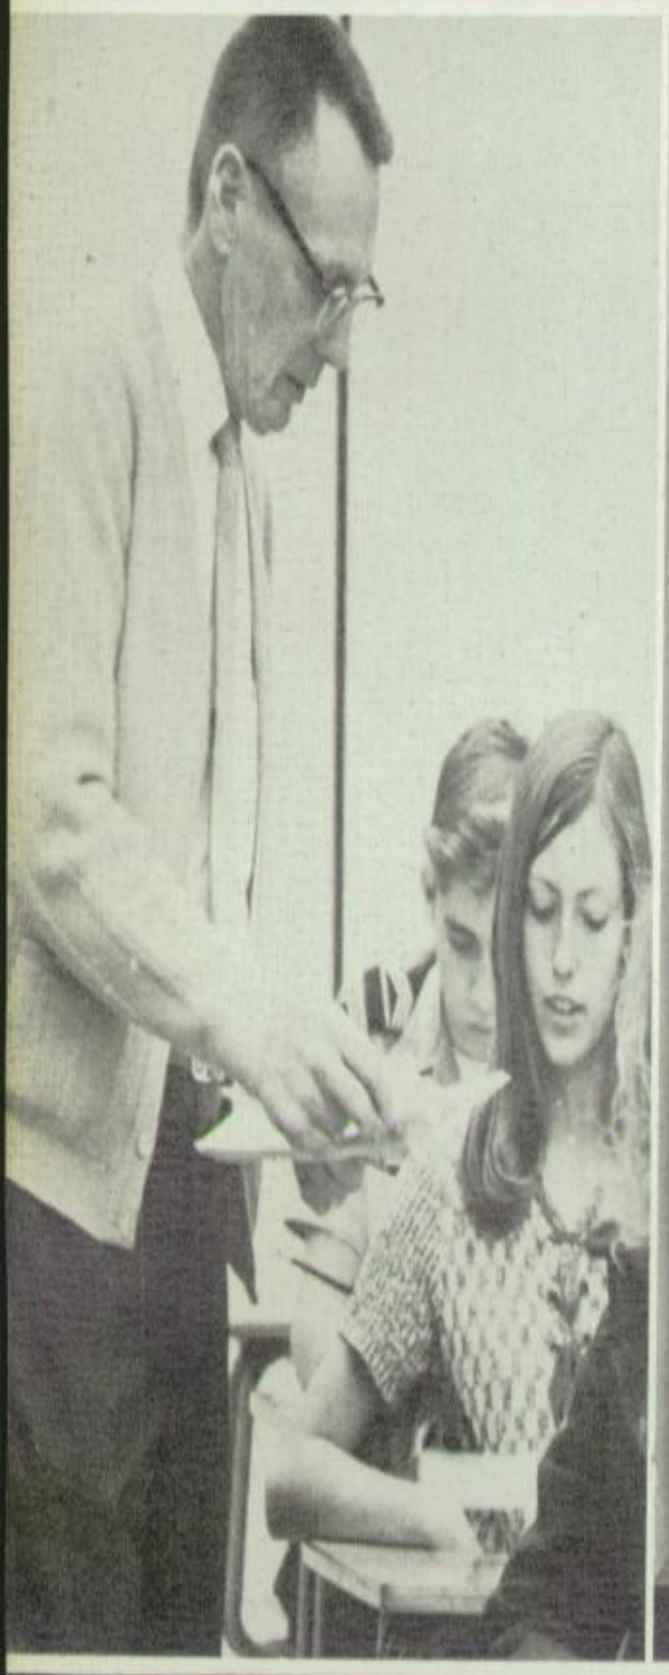
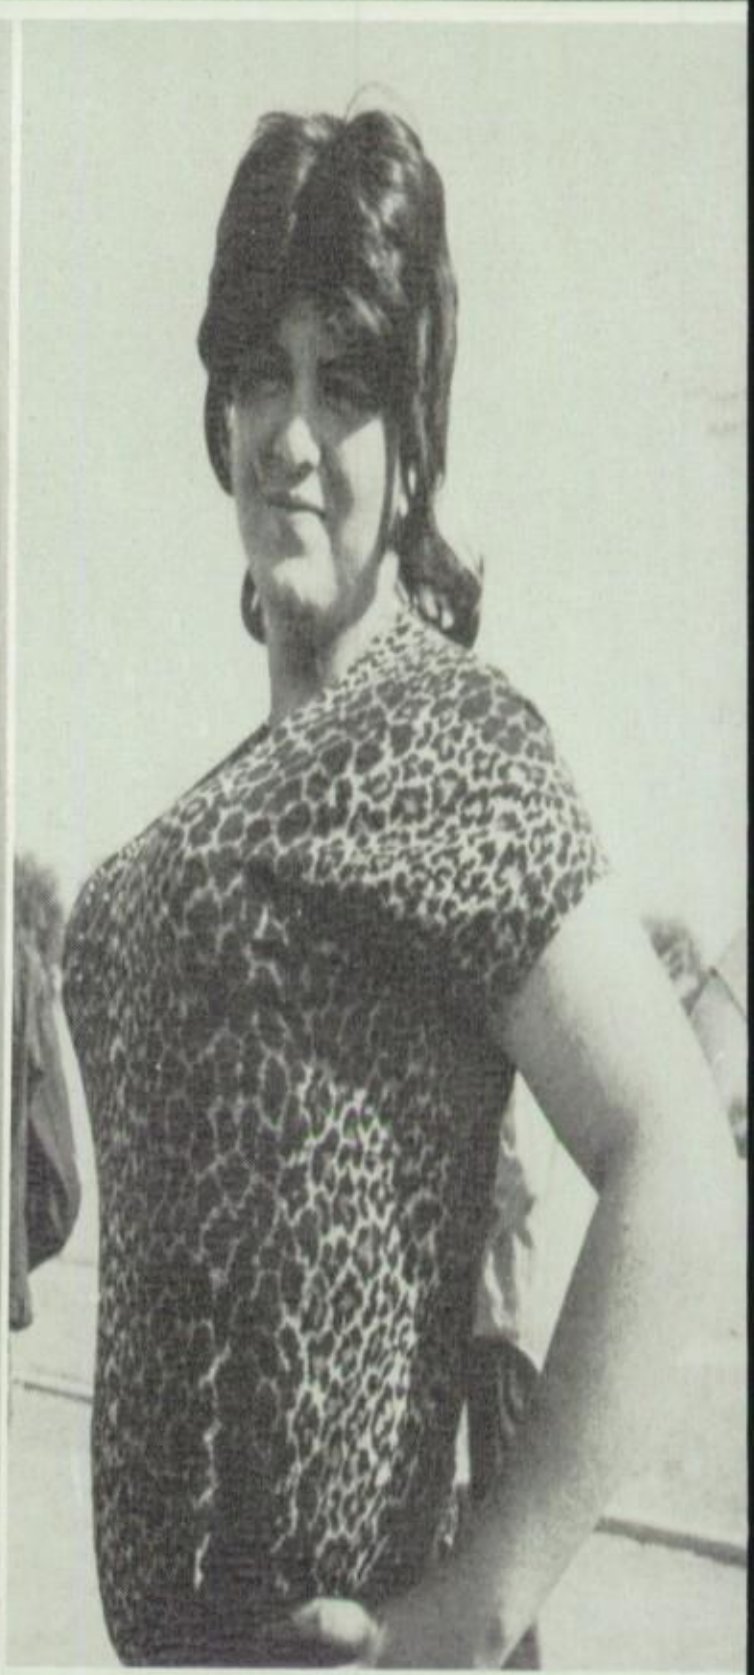
Maryvale moves



. . . in curriculum

. . . in honors



. . . in student life

Entering the doors for the first time ever,
dropping books,
getting lost,
fearing everyone.
Coming back,
studying biology,
looking down on lowly frosh,
Passing along to the year of working and waiting, the year of rings, American History, prom,
Looking back, wondering if it were worth it, leaving for the last time,
Maryvale classes moved to prepare for the future.

Editors hope students find their share

Donna Straass

As the editors of this year's Panthorian we have seen many changes in not only scholastic achievement, athletic abilities; but in the overall attitude of the students. We have seen Maryvale move closer to greatness.

We the editors, our staff and our advisor have tried to capture these feelings of accomplishments for your memories. This could not have been done without the help of the student body, administration and faculty.

We hope that somewhere in this book each and everyone finds where they have moved onward to greater achievements.

as Maryvale moves on to true greatness

Brenda Lee
